

How to Use This Kit

EAM310 · Cumulative Final Exam Prep · VUIM Summer 2026
Prof. Daniel Schrier, D.O.M., L.Ac. | Final: Friday, Sept. 11, 2026 | Compiled by Jon for EAM310 classmates

reMarkable Edition

This kit was built for the whole class, not just for me. Everything in it traces back to Schrier's slides and lecture transcripts, cross-checked against Maciocia (FCM) and Cheng Xinnong (CAM). Where something is a judgment call or an open question, it's flagged — not smoothed over.

What's in the Kit

Document	What it's for	When to use it
Study Guide	Full-depth reference — tables and diagrams for every diagnostic category, organized by week.	First pass, or when a Quiz/Drill question stumps you and you need the "why."
Cram Sheet	Condensed, high-density recall tables with Quick Recall lines and Heads-Up boxes for the traps.	Night before, morning of, or any 15-minute window.
Drill Pack	Short-answer and fill-in drills that force active recall.	After your first Study Guide pass — this is where it sticks.
Quiz Pack	Multiple-choice, formatted like Schrier's actual quizzes.	Timed self-testing.
EXCEPT/NOT Pack	Practice with the "which of the following is NOT/EXCEPT" format specifically.	Once content feels solid.

Two Versions of the Depth-Heavy Documents

Version	Coverage	Best for
Full Cumulative	Weeks 1–9, equal depth throughout.	One complete reference if Weeks 1–5 haven't been reviewed recently.
6–9 Deep + 1–5 Review	Weeks 6–9 (Observation, Inquiry, Palpation, Hearing & Smelling) in full depth; Weeks 1–5 condensed to core recall.	If Weeks 1–5 already feel solid and you want to focus remaining time on the newer material.

Heads up: Weeks 6–9 are the most recently taught and least reviewed material in the class — budget extra time there regardless of which version you pick.

Suggested Plan — 5 Days Out

Day	Focus
Day 1	Skim the Cram Sheet cover-to-cover once, cold, to find the real gaps — don't fix them yet, just notice them.
Day 2	Study Guide, Weeks 6–9. Newest, least-reviewed material — front-load it.
Day 3	Drill Pack, Weeks 6–9, then a fast Study Guide pass on Weeks 1–5.
Day 4	Full Quiz Pack, timed. Review every miss against the Study Guide, not just the right answer.
Day 5 (final eve)	EXCEPT/NOT Pack + Cram Sheet pass. Sleep beats one more hour of drilling.

Open Flags — Confirm with Prof. Schrier Before the Final

- 1. Scorched odor character: the Week 8/9 materials use 笑 (xiào) on the "Scorched" odor slide where the classical character is 焦 (jiāo). Flagged for confirmation — check the current slide before the final.
- 2. Five Named Odors ↔ Zang-Fu pairing: the source slides don't explicitly pair each of the five odors to a Zang-Fu organ.
